Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phrase "the pull rod is connected to the drive member radially movable" is ambiguous.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yonezawa ('509).

Yonezawa shows a clamping apparatus having outer engaging members 13, inner engaging member 12, a pull rod 12b. The resilience of outer engaging members 13 is a returning means.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yonezawa ('509) in view of Yonezawa ('354).

Yonezawa ('354) shows a cover member 12 and a balancing elastic member 29.

Art Unit: 3723

To incorporate a cover member and a balancing elastic member in Yonezawa ('509" would have been obvious in view of Yonezawa ('354). One skilled in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to enhance the clamping in Yonezawa ('354).

Claims 4-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
